

Vatsal Kataria (VATKAT)

📷 What does he create?

Vatsal Kataria is a photographer who makes tiny scenes that look like real-life places!

He builds small models using cardboard, glue, clay, and paint, then takes photos that look like big dramatic landscapes.

His work turns miniatures into realistic, magical photos!

🖼️ Artworks, and how he makes them

Activities

- Make Your Own Mini Scene! - Use cardboard, foil, paint, and paper to make a tiny mountain or house.
- Create a Tiny City! - Use bottle caps, matchboxes, and toy cars to build your own miniature town.
- Try Toy Photography! - Take pictures of your toys as if they're in real adventures.
- Design a Diorama - Use a shoebox and turn it into a forest, desert, or outer space scene!
- Recreate this photograph
  - use modelling clay to make the rock
  - place it on a painted board
  - put a painting behind it
